

Chapter 1

Logan ran a red light and swerved into the drive. A sign in the front said, "Warning Possible Death Ahead." Logan did not want to die, but he wanted a million dollars. It would not take long five-hundred dollars a day.

He shut the door to his rusty pickup and walked up the sidewalk. The door exploded an old man said, "Come in my boy." The man was small and plump with a white beard and a red mustache, he had brown hair and a Toto.

Logan walked into the house if you could call it a house it was full of weird stuff. Salt, chains, fireworks, socks, mice, clocks, pepper, hammers, flies, rocks, blood, diapers, The Story of My Life, Pokémon, close pins, phones, paint, glue, gum, gummy snacks, nuts, nails, glass. The list could go on and on. Logan fell to the floor unconscious

Logan did not want to open his eyes, he heard the words: what can I say you're welcome for trying to kill you what can I say except your welcome I am just crazy scientist you. Your welcome, your welcome I hate you.

Logan opened his eyes, he was in a small room and strapped to a lab table. Logan saw a sign on the wall that read Ransom Hartman, Preston Gravedigger, Caleb, Mathew, Ethan Louis, and a few other names. When Logan stopped looking at the sign out of the corner of his eye, he saw the man who blew the door open. Then the man said: "It is time." "For what," asked Logan?

The man did not answer, he instead hit a button and a needle came out of a small compartment. The man grabbed the needle and said, "This will hurt and you will possibly die its 999 percent chance of survival. So you definitely will die but you'll still have twenty minutes after I poke you and if you don't die you will have superpowers.

The man poked him fifteen minutes, twelve minutes, ten minutes, five minutes, three minutes, and nothing. Logan slammed his hand onto the table and the table crumbled. Logan saw a camera and then decided to smash it and he punched the door down and ran.

Chapter 2

A warning beeped, Logan came to a door and smashed it open. Preston was dead on the floor. Logan heard two monsters. Logan started running, the monsters chased him. Logan then opened the door again then immediately shut it.

Logan then bent the door knob. He turned and saw Ransom on the floor. "Help," cried Ransom. Logan set him free. "You are strong, you are super strong. That must be your power others have two or three different powers." said Ransom "I am not going to survive this, I am not strong but I am good at one thing Fire Balls. Can you help me save the people here" continued Ransom.

"Yes," said Logan. While they were speaking the door was being smashed the monsters rushed in.

Chapter 3

Logan saw Ransom throw a fireball at the monsters, the room exploded. Fire burst from the walls, the room started to collapse on itself. Logan and Ransom ran to the door, but the door was stuck.

Logan ran at the wall, fire fell, behind him. He ran faster and faster. Logan hit the wall. The wall crashed on top of him. Then a chunk of wall hit Logan on the head and he fell to the ground. A few hours later Logan opened his eyes Ransom was carrying him. "What happened," asked Logan?

You smashed the wall, I dragged you out," answered Ransom. They kept walking.

Chapter 4

Ransom, Ethan, Mathew, Caleb, and Logan tried their powers Monsters rushed in.

The monsters were everywhere, Logan yelled but no one heard him. Logan's hands turned blue. He saw a man throwing fire bolts. The man tried throwing fireballs at Logan. But nothing happened, then Logan threw a fireball at the man. He then exploded.

Chapter 5

John's body felt light, he twitches his bed flue it hit the door. Broke open a piece of glass and cut himself free then sat up and ran. Logan smashed five monsters with each blow. The monsters surrounded Logan. He squeezed his fist and pointed at monsters the monster immediately caught on fire. But the monsters only got stronger, every time a monster died.

Chapter 6

John switched the flow. He flew over a bunch of monsters. One monster looked up and roared, then all the monsters looked up.

John swooped down and hit one of them. The monster fell down. John hit and smashed monsters. The fiery monster was getting stronger every second. John destroyed the monsters and Ethan smashed monsters.

Aldef the fiery monster ran at Ethan then he punched Ethan. Ethan fell down dead!

Ransom yelled," the fire will destroy and shot a fireball at Aldef. Just then the flaming monster slashed at Ransom. The floor shook and split, They were separated.

Chapter 7

As Logan was walking, John flew and landed right beside Logan. Josiah heard the fight. Just then the door was smashed and Mathew came in and said, "Look."

Josiah looked at a screen that said Josiah has powers kill him. Josiah tried to escape, the table crumbled beneath him.

They both ran, Ransom threw a fireball at the fiery monster. The fiery monster dodged the attack and slashed Ransom and he turned blue and crumbled and flopped over dead. The ground shook, John picked up Caleb and Logan and flew forward.

They all saw Mathew. "I sent Mathew to look for more people," said Logan. John set them down. Mathew said," run."

“Logan this Josiah has super strength and can turn invisible,” said John as they ran into a tunnel. Josiah said,” Look, we’re being pursued.” They came to a place where they were on the death plate form. They were surrounded by four walls. Behind them the tunnel in front of a cliff and walls on either side. They could hear the monsters approaching.

Chapter 8

The mad scientist threat (no one knows his name) sent a message to his army, “KILL THEM ALL,” and to Aldef he said we must retreat come to see me and hurry, we must get out of here and get the poison dart.

Caleb said," we must fly up there. John, you fly Logan and Mathew set them down. Josiah will teleport. John had just got to the top when the monsters appeared.

John forgot he was carrying Mathew, John stretched out his hand to hit a monster. And Mathew jumped and landed on a monster. Then the monster fell over, Mathew then smashed another monster and one more monster then ten more monsters then a thousand more monsters. Josiah teleported and he became invisible and smashed monsters left and right fifty at each blow.

For five minutes Monsters rushed in everywhere. The cliff was full. But up at the top things were worse. Josiah teleported to the top, luckily for him. He was invisible.

His friend was surrounded by 150,000 mechanicals, fully loaded with twenty-nine torpedoes in each machine gun. The monsters had six arms and each hand machine gun in it. Lay ready for use.

The mechanicals grabbed Logan and threw him into a dungeon. A big mechanical said," I am Cowry, I am in charge of this army, we will blow you up in five, four, three, two, one. Mathew tripped on a pile of monsters.

A monster charged at Mathew. The monster grabbed Mathew and slashed at him. Mathew exploded throwing monsters everywhere. A monster hit a flashing button and the remains of Mathew fell off the cliff never to be seen again.

Chapter 9

Logan closed his eyes. He heard a thump, he opened his eyes. All of the mechanicals were on the floor backward. Logan put his hands on the bars and it came off. Then Logan threw himself at a wall. A bar hit his head and everything went black.

Caleb smashed a monster and jumped off the cliff. There was a small ledge that he grabbed and threw himself to the top of the cliff and did a pullup and he pulled himself up to the top and John flew up.

When Logan awoke, his friends were carrying him. Logan sat up and jumped. They ran to a door. Caleb said, "that red button turned all the electricity off including these doors that we can't break."

"So the two options are either we wait and be killed by monsters or take a risk and turn the power on and open the door," continued Caleb.

"Let's go through and turn on the power," said

Logan. Logan searched for a button. Finally, he found a button flashing blue.

Logan called everyone and said, "Everyone goes to the door as soon as the door opens rush through. Josiah, you push the button and then teleport in case of an emergency, stay together and hurry."

Josiah hit the button and then teleported on the other side. Logan saw a flashing button. He ran and hit it the doors closed.

But just as the door started closing a mechanical rushed through. Caleb sacrificing himself threw himself at the mechanical, he hit a torpedo and exploded hit the door and crumbled Caleb right onto the concrete ceiling.

John flew through the gap and came back down and said, "It is safe."

Josiah was up in a flash and was up on the next floor. Before you curl say Tiffany and John followed him holding Logan, John flew and Josiah teleported to make sure there were no problems in this way they covered twenty miles and came to a tunnel.

The tunnel was damp and dark, suddenly, they saw a light! Josiah, John, and Logan were at the top. They saw two doors. Josiah smashed the first door, a five or six-year-old boy was in the cage.

A sign on the front said, "This being is not to be messed with an experiment of making an alien. The boy had curly black hair and was very skinny.

The boy said," Please help me to get out of here." Logan ripped the top of the cage. The boy jumped out and started running toward the other doorknob.

The door swung open revealing a desk that had a map on it. Logan grabbed the map and ran, everyone else followed. He then spotted a staircase. Logan ran up it and came to a door.

He smashed the door, Logan then looked out. He was in the trashed house. They ran into the house. The scientist (who no one knows his name) said," Aldef make the house explode seems we have some uninvited guests."

Logan smashed the front door and with the child escaped just as the house exploded. Josiah teleported and John flew them out. They got into Logan's rusty pickup and drove away.

Chapter 10

Logan looked at the boy again and realized it was his cousin Johnny and gave him a big hug
Logan looked at the map and now it was the map of the other mad scientist's labs where he does evil things
