

Dr. Maniac and I hate bees

Chapter 1

"Evilness is spreading around the United States," said General Hatez.

"What do we do?" asked Captain Tred.

"We must put up the Dr. Maniac Signal." Ordered General Hatez. "Yes, Sir." Said a soldier.

The Maniac Signal lighted up the night sky and caught the eye of Bobby who is secretly Dr. Maniac.
Who immediately called the J.W Team formed by The Phantom Ghost.

Archio, Starco, and Quidondo got to work and were on their way to the Army Base to follow up with General Hatez.

General Hatez started explaining the danger of Buzzard who has really bad breath and is evil. While General Hatez is explaining Bobby who changes into Dr. Maniac said: "I have powers and you do not!" General Hatez stares at Dr. Maniac with scowling eyes and growls "How did you get here!"

Chapter 2

As everyone was talking in whispers Dr. Maniac spoke up and said: "We need to find the Buzzard by satellite and clobber him." They activated the satellite with highly advanced technology.

"Alert, Alert, Alert, "said the computer. "The Buzzard is striking in London with bees." "Thanks, computer", said Starco.

The team got on their super fast dirt bikes and raced to London. When they got there the city cheered.

"Quidondo, go to my left and Starco go to my right. Archio goes to the rooftop and starts fighting the bees. I am going to start fighting the Buzzard". Said Dr. Maniac.

As the team is taking a position, a swarm of bees and their master who is dressed in a bee costume with a staff and a stinger came flying in and land right in front of Dr. Maniac and his team. Dr. Maniac starts shouting "kill the bees" over and over. He starts doing his roundhouse kicks and says "Hiya Hiya" and is freaking out because the machine on his back is malfunctioning and takes Dr. Maniac back to his childhood when the Phantom Ghost was telling him to become a hero. Bobby aka Dr. Maniac was only 8 years old when he started hearing the Phantom Ghost speak "Become a hero". As Bobby grew older he still heard the voice while training to be a scientist. While he was in the lab working on a special chemical, the fumes made him feel like he was floating around space drinking a latte. He realized he was freaking out and made a special machine that would allow him to talk with the Phantom Ghost without him feeling like a crazy guy.

Archio was looking at Dr. Maniac freaking out on the floor and rushed over to fix the machine. Just as Dr. Maniac was getting a hold of himself Buzzard punches him. The Phantom Ghost who saw all of this action while staying in a hotel made a protective shield over Dr. Maniac.

The sting that Buzzard was giving Dr. Maniac rebounded off of the shield and evaporated. Buzzard says "Sorry, but I have better things to do", and flies off.

Chapter 3

When everyone got back to the base, Dr. Maniac declares "to the Science Lab". Everyone looks at each other and says "do we have to." "Yes, unless you want to do my laundry", Dr. Maniac said. Everyone groaned and went to the lab. When they got there Dr. Maniac's assistant Greg was holding a chip in his hand. Dr. Maniac changed back into Bobby and took the chip from Greg. The chip had information on where Buzzard was located. Dr. Maniac had put a tracking device on Buzzard while he was fighting him. As they were putting the chip in the computer, Starco's alarm system was going off. Bobby told Greg to go and get him a pizza. So off Greg went. Bobby changed back into Dr. Maniac and listened as Starco was talking about the swarm of bees Buzzard had sent to New York City. The team hopped on their dirt bikes and took off for the big city. When they got there it was not bees it was two giant killer wasps. The wasps had tremendous wings, bulletproof armor and had fangs. The team took one look and gasped. Dr. Maniac had a plan. He looked at Starco and said, "Throw some of your star rings at their bulletproof armor. It will make their armor weak and explode because of the bombs in the rings." He started speaking to Quidondo and said, "throw your swords at their wings and they will fall off." Then he spoke to Archio and said, "We are going to have all the fun. To the rooftop so we can sprinkle the poison on their heads." So they all took off and did what they were told. As soon as the plan was carried thru the wasps exploded and the city was safe. Buzzard was watching this at his secretive beehive located in the city. He started screeching and saying "no no, the heroes won again."

Chapter 4

"Where is General Hatez?" asked Dr. Maniac.

"He was bee napped by Buzzard's Bees while you were fighting the two killer wasps." Said a Soldier. Dr. Maniac looked at the soldier and said, "Who are you?" The soldier replied, "I am Ted the Great who helps the Army in times of beenappings." Dr. Maniac says "Okay Teddy Boy. How do we get the general back?" Ted the Great looks at Dr. Maniac and says "Call me Ted the Great, not Teddy Boy. How to get the general back would be to find the bees hiding place and spray it with bee killer to kill all the bees. Then go in and get in the general." Dr. Maniac looks at Ted the Great and says mischievously "Okay Teddy Boy."

The team took off with bee killer in their hands and looked all over the city for Buzzard and his hideout. Starco's alarm went off again. Dr. Maniac said, "Is that alarm for Buzzard?" "Yes, he is located in an apartment at the mall."

So off they went to the mall to find Buzzard. As they were searching the mall they found Buzzard's hiding place. There was a party going on. Buzzard came over the loudspeaker and said, "Thank you J.W Team for saving the city."

As the team stood there amazed, someone tapped Dr. Maniac on the shoulder and said, "Welcome to the party. Grab a bite to eat and have a good evening." As Dr. Maniac turned around he couldn't believe his eyes General Hatez was standing before him wearing a bee costume. Dr. Maniac realized it was a trap and said under his breath, "Buzzard is General Hatez." He took out the killer bee spray and sprayed towards Buzzard. Buzzard began screeching as he withered away to a pile of nothingness.

While Dr. Maniac was realizing who the Buzzard was the rest of the team was dancing. All of a sudden a net fell from the sky and trapped everyone but Dr. Maniac. Evil Epic stepped out of a curtain and said, "You may have stopped the Buzzard but can you save your friends from the whips of evilness that will destroy them."

Dr. Maniac looks at Evil Epic and says, "You did this. I will destroy you." Dr. Maniac heads back to his base and thinks of a plan to stop Evil Epic.

"My friends are counting on me," said Dr. Maniac. "Wait, the circuit in Evil Epic's whips maybe I can reverse it but how. I am going to my lab. I'll make a chemical to stop him". Then he changes back into Bobby. So an hour later he's with Greg making a potion. "One piece of spinach, oil, sewer water and books will reverse the whips," said Bobby. "Here add this piece of wood, music and a touch of salt and vinegar. It will do the trick." Said Greg. "Thanks, Greg," said Bobby. So when he's done making the potion he puts it in a test tube and leaves. He turns back to Dr. Maniac and finds Evil Epic.

Chapter 5

Evil Epic is turning the crowd into an army of villains. As Quidondo is trying to distract Evil Epic with his swords. Dr. Maniac appears and says "Want some soda? I will destroy you Evil Epic."

Evil Epic laughs and says, "Sure I will have a drink but soda will not stop me. Dr. Maniac hands Evil Epic the test tube and says, "Drink up."

Evil Epic swallows the soda and starts falling. "What did you give me?" he said.

"I gave you my special chemical to stop evilness."

Said Dr. Maniac. Evil Epic continues to fall to the ground and the crowd comes out of the net and cheers. The team surrounds Evil Epic and ties him up for the police to find.

Dr. Maniac looks at Evil Epic and says, "Heroes win and Villains lose. I beat you and off to jail you go."
