

Chapter 1

One day Sarah was at a mine on a field trip because she was a high school teacher.

“Ok, class this is a piece of gold ore,” said Sarah. “Why do we have to be here,” asked one of her students. “Because our next test will be on ores,” she said.

“Aw,” said all of the students, MEEP MEEP. “What was that,” cried Jordan. “That was the chemical alarm,” said Sarah. “There must be a problem, Get to the bus hurry.”

Chapter 2

As the kids ran to the bus, the cave started to collapse and Sarah was trapped inside as the chemical gas started to fill the gold mine.

“Ugh,” coughed Sarah as she blacked out. A piece of gold fell out and landed next to her. All the students except Jordan got out in time.

A few days later Sarah woke up in the hospital. “Why am I here,” she asked one of the doctors. “One of the many dangerous gasses knocked you out,” said the doctor.

Chapter 3

A few days later Sarah received a letter that said, “Hello, I want to help you, come to the place marked on the map.”

Sarah did not know what to do, nor did she know who the man was so she decided to wait to trust him. She went to make herself some breakfast but when she grabbed the milk the carton started to change form.

“What,” she gasped in surprise as she dropped a pure gold milk carton.

She decided to go to the place mysterious man mentioned and when she got there she saw a man standing on a shadowy platform.

Chapter 4

"Who are you," Sarah asked. "I am Black Shadow," he replied. "Can you help me control my powers," she asked.

"Yes," he said. After a few days of practice Aurum had control of her powers and became a superhero, Black Shadow offered her a chance to join a team of other superheroes but she decided not to just yet.

The next time she was at the school Jordan was acting stranger than usual. "Jordan stops putting small speedos on frogs," she yelled. "Heh heh heh," he cackled evilly.

Chapter 5

That night a gem robbery occurred near Sarah's apartment.

She decided to check it out and was shocked to see... "Jordan what are you doing here?" she thought to her self. and the teen stood up and started attacking Aurum.

"You have no chance to win. And a few of the gems flew at her and cut her badly. "Jordan, w..why," asked Sarah.

Chapter 6

"Jordan is no more I am the Gemstone," said Jordan. "Writer, I said I was the Gemstone!" said Jordan. "I SAID I WAS THE GEMSTONE!!!" said Jordan.

"Whatever, I am going to steal all these gems," said the Gemstone. "Yes finally you got it right," said Jordan. And while Jordan was distracted, Aurum punched him in the face.

"Ugh," said Jordan. Suddenly all of the diamonds and emerald flew at her but she caught them and they turned to gold at her fingertips.

"What nooo," cried The Gemstone as he fell to his knees in despair. "You're going to spend some time in jail," said Sarah.

Epilogue

A few days later Sarah received a new letter congratulating her on defeating the Gemstone.

In the class, they went on another field trip to a comic book studio and while there she saw the writer who looked familiar... On the way back to the bus she asked him his name. "Luke," he replied. "Luke...BOOM. "Crap, I have to go," said Luke.
